JEWS WILL FIGHT SUNDAY BLUE LAWS

300 Congregations in Sabbath Alliance Send Notice to Legislators.

JUDGE SEES RED TAIN

Mitchell May Warns That Restrictions Will Cause Wave of Discontent.

The Jewish Sabbath Alliance of America has resolved to wage an energetic campaign against the promoters of the Sunday blue laws, on the ground that the legislation they propose would be in direct contravention of the Constitutional guarantee of religious liberty. A set of resolutions condemning the proposed laws has been adopted at a meeting of the alliance and it intends to make itself heard in protest by means of broadcast literature and mass meetings. William Rosenberg, executive secretary, said yesterday:

"What these opponents of the seventh day call the American Sabbath is nothing more than a subterfuge. There is no American Sabbath. Just as there is no European Sabbath. But there is a Christian and a Jewish Sabbath. There is no reason which permits legislators to decide religious questions, and even at the present time the laws on the statute books of the State of New York are the greatest injustice to a large portion of the citizenry of this country. The alliance will make every effort to amend them so as to allow the seventh day observing citizen equal rights with the citizen observing any other day."

300 Congregations Act.

More than 300 Jewish congregations have pledged their support to the alliance, and letters will be sent to every legislator in the country asking him to assist in preventing the passage of the blue laws.

The Rev. Carlisle B. Haynes, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Temple, announced yesterday that his church will withdraw all support from the Anti-Sabbath League if the league should decide to throw its strength to the Lord's Day Alliance, the organization which is favoring the blue laws. Mr. Haynes wrote as follows to William H. Anderson, superintendent of the league:

"I notice that the president of the Anti-Sabbath League has a prominent position in the Lord's Day Alliance and I understand that other officers of the league also are officers of the alliance. This certainly gives the appearance of a close connection between the two organizations, and we wish to know and feel entitled to know whether any of the money obtained for the purpose of suppressing the liquor traffic is used for any other purpose. If any portion of the funds is diverted to the Lord's Day Alliance in an insidious attempt to set aside the principles of American liberty by starting a campaign for Sunday legislation, legislation which is un-American, un-Christian, unconstitutional and unjust, to say nothing of being a revival of the bigotry of the Dark Ages, we do not care to have a part in such a campaign and will withhold our support from both organizations."

Bolshevist Taint Seen.

Judge Mitchell May of the Kings County Court, addressing a Grand Jury yesterday, advised them that the agitation for blue Sundays has the taint of Bolshevism.

"The intention of law," said Judge May, "was to establish peace and happiness and contentment and not to restrain citizens unreasonably in their freedom of action."

"Long ago men recognized the advisability of keeping church and state apart, so let us go slowly before enacting antiquated, discarded and unnecessary laws that may bring down upon our heads a feeling of discontent and unrest and may fan the flames of Bolshevism. We cannot by law make people religious. We cannot make them respect law by more law. But we can easily create a feeling of resentment, and Bolshevism is merely a method of expressing dissatisfaction with the existing order of things, and its supporters are people who have suffered, or feel that they have suffered, as a result of discrimination, oppression and injustice."

LIBERAL SABBATH RULING IN MARYLAND

Amusements Permitted if for No Financial Benefit.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 4.—Opponents here of the efforts of certain religious and reform organizations which are seeking a stricter observance of the laws respecting Sunday amusements were encouraged by these efforts from a ruling on the subject today by State Attorney-General Armstrong.

"The complexity of our modern life," says the Attorney-General, "has presented new living conditions, whose requirements have led to a more liberal construction and application of these restrictive measures (the so-called blue laws)."

"If they were given a literal application it would be illegal for churches to maintain paid choirs. The church member who is driven to service by his paid chauffeur would be a violator of the law."

The opinion was transmitted to Police Commissioner Gaither of Baltimore, who had asked for a ruling as to whether public entertainments on Sunday at which collections are taken up are legal or illegal. Mr. Armstrong holds in substance that Sunday entertainments and gatherings, promoted for the intellectual, moral and cultural improvement of the community, not for the financial benefit of persons or corporations; and which do not interfere with religious worship, are not unlawful and may not be interfered with.

HOPES TO STRENGTHEN
DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The International Reform Bureau, at its twenty-sixth anniversary here, December 3 to 10, plans an effort to secure at the special session of Congress new legislation to "improve prohibition enforcement" to "protect China against the shipment of American morphine" and to reduce gambling, according to a statement given out by Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, founder of the bureau.

Dr. Crafts believes that "public indignation at the bribery of ball players by gamblers" gives his organization a "strategic opportunity to knock out gambling, which the world was increased, he said."

The Randall divorce amendment, a Federal motion picture regulation bill and others relating to child labor, nativity and immigration restriction will be supported by the bureau, which also will urge measures to eliminate wholesale liquor dealers.

The special session of Congress is "unusually favorable for pressing these measures," Dr. Crafts thinks, "because Republicans are likely to postpone many appropriation bills till after March 4, when they may have a safe majority."
